

Photo courtesy of Frieling

Coming in April, Frieling will be releasing the Milk Chiller. Designed to eliminate clutter and waste at the condiment station, the Milk Chiller features an LED display window, which identifies eight different dairy products. As Udo Robitsch, sales manager at Frieling, says, "The temperature sensor in the base monitors and maintains the perfect temperature for the dairy products."

The Milk Chiller features a stylish contemporary design with a black or brushed-stainless-steel finish and can be customized with company logos or service marks.

§ the new Milk
e at any coffee
asy-to-read LCD
t types of dairy
ieling, explains,
d maintains the

rary design in a
be branded with